FROM THE CAP'N

nuqneH. So by the time you read this, a few of us have walked the stage at our High School or College of choice. I want to congratulate all those who successfully survived school and welcome you all to the dredges of real life. That is unless you are entering college in a few months then you have a few more years to live it up.

Even though the issue date is of this particular Maximum Overkill is dated "August" I'm actually compiling it in early July. After I get this issue sent in the mail, I am going to start gathering more info for the next issue. As much as I hate to say this, the next issue might be one of the last issues we print for a while. As I mentioned in the last newsletter, I will not have access to these computers after the first week of August and the computer I have at home is a PC and I do not have an art program that I can easily use. I have been spending most of my free time in the computer lab cleaning art and transferring them to PC files.

There is another issue I want to discuss with you all. As we have discussed at the recent meeting, someone in the chain of command have either dropped the ball or forgotten completely about us. When I ask around, I'm told that I need to submit another roster to a new commanding officer. I'm personally getting tired of filing reports and rosters at what seems like every, typing them out has become a chore (not to mention personal correspondence from other Klingon fans). KAG has launched a new "fleet" called the Demon Fleet (Hmm, could we have inspired the name?). The newsletter states: "The Demon Fleet was created by the Epetai to be a new kind of fleet within KAG, one which operates outside the naval chain of command. It is a Fleet of privateers and pirates, and was intended to be a return in spirit to the early days of KAG." They also mention: "The Demon Fleet does not require anyone to get permission from anyone but the Demon Fleet to join the Demon Fleet. But the Demon Fleet might not suit everyone, especially those who need a great deal of structure. We do not have the chain of command that some find comforting. Captains run their ships as they see fit, and they maintain their command by service to their members."

I am unsure how the structure will work out with us, but the newsletter I received made me laugh pretty hard. I will bring it to the next meeting, it's printed in color, so I am unsure how it will photocopy. At the next meeting we need to discuss whether we should move our chapter over to this Demon Fleet or not. Above all, I joined this club to have fun and I recruited you all on that premise. Even being part of the Quadrant staff hasn't helped the situation we are facing with all this paperwork we have to constantly turn in.

Let's think on this and discuss more at the next meeting.

~ "Unkle" Kahn vestai-Shar

MST3K NEWS

What?! MST3K in a Klingon publication?! Well, yes, it's something we all like to watch and laugh our butts off at. So we all know that the show was canceled on Comedy Central, but there are some great news! Along with the movie that launched on April 19 in select theaters, there is also something called MST3K60m. Basically it's a Mystery Science Theater episode, broken into two one hour long segments. I've been trying to catch an episode from the Dallas stations, but seem to always catch the second part. I have been catching the first part of that show the next day on a Waco channel. Weird, I know.

There is a rumor going around that MST3K might... MIGHT be picked up by the Sci-Fi channel. If so that would be great as the show will continue to live on. There is also a book coming out called The Amazing Colossal Episode Guide. I'm sure it will be a breakdown of each episode and possibly some insight to the future of MST3K.

Push the button Frank.

THE SAN QUV QAT

Commonly known to Earthlings as the Klingon Horoscope

By: Shirley Simpson

SAN QUV QAT (literally translated as Fate-Honor-Life)

This San Quv Qat is translated in the simplest terms for Earthlings seeking wisdom from Klingon mysticism. At birth, a child's San Quv Qat (Path to Greatest Glory) is determined to ensure his victory in life. Earth warriors should consult dates below to determine the Aspect of War under which you were born. This forecast is for the earth time known as "February of 1994." Some more info from Sajqa

BATTLE (those born March 1 – April 7) A'Kahless
SIEGE (those born April 8 – May 19) Jo'vos
ALLIANCE (those born May 20 – July 1) Maktag
RETREAT (those born July 2 – Aug 10) Merruthj
GLORY (those born Aug 11 – Sept 19) Soo'jen
DUTY (those born Sept 20 – Nov 2) Lo'Bral
BETRAYAL (those born Nov 3 – Dec 13) nay'Poq
CHALLENGE (those born Dec 14 – Jan 20) Doqath
INVASION (those born Jan 21 – Feb 28) Xan'lahr

THE NINE ASPECTS OF WAR

BATTLE (those born March 1 – April 7)

Warriors born in the Aspect of Battle must beware of too much emotion. You are ruled by your passions and are the ultimate killing machine. This Aspect destines you for glory on the battlefield. Wear red, the color of blood: it stimulates you to greater glory. February is a period of contemplation for you. You will find answers you've been seeking for some time. But, you also need battles. Channel your energy into work by the middle of this month. Love is not for you now.

SIEGE (those born April 8 – May 19)

None can withstand the Siege warrior. You outlast your enemies. Your one weakness – you stink of a Ferengi's love of money. This is forgiven for you are the ultimate aggressor: all-powerful, unyielding. This month denies you the action you crave. You will assuage this lack by acquiring wealth. There are many days of conflict (Feb. 1, 7, 8, 21, 22, 27, 28) where you are torn between desires. Choose noble desires. Last month's weakness is gone: you feel renewed energy.

ALLIANCE (those born May 20 – July 1)

You are clever. Very clever. A master manipulator, you waste no time spilling blood. You let others spill it for you while you dine in the halls of power. Wealth means little to you, just a way of achieving your goals. You speak well and often. Others fall under your spell. This month you'll think you've lost your powers of persuasion – it is only temporary. Patience. Lie fallow. Enjoy your health, avoid conflict. Your word this month is balance – work towards it now.

RETREAT (those born July 2 – Aug 10)

Do not underestimate the warrior born in Retreat. You conquer by appearing to give in. Those who pursue you get lost in mists, disappearing forever. You choose contemplation over conflict. This month discard the unnecessary from your life: false friends, fruitless work, unworthy gifts. It is a good time to do what you've been hesitating. You're now stronger than before, but your peers weaker. Beware those in power: they may see your friends' weakness as your and attack.

GLORY (those born Aug 11 – Sept 19)

At the front of every change, you have no fear for you are invincible! The greatest warriors are born into the Aspect of Glory! You are a great leader: fearless, generous, charismatic. This occasionally costs you great losses, but nevermind – glory is all! This month you are less vibrant than usual; guard your health zealously. Money will flow into your hands; lavish it on yourself. Accept the submission of those who rightfully adore you. Wear gold, it gives you strength.

DUTY (those born Sept 20 – Nov 2)

You are a perfect warrior. You follow orders. You die on command, so choose those you follow wisely. Under your quiet, loyal exterior lies wisdom and contemplation. Take time to follow your heart as well as your head. This is a month of confusion for you. Make no decisions! Fall back into the comfort and safety of routine. By the middle of February look for the leisure you usually scorn; this month is vital for your survival. Rest and wait. The path you should take will soon become clearer to you.

BETRAYAL (those born Nov 3 – Dec 13)

Betrayal is the deadliest Aspect of War. You lull others into false security. Hiding your innermost feelings, you are a chameleon and become whatever people believe you are. But you are always true to yourself. Betrayal warriors are impossible to destroy. They rise from the dust, stronger than ever. You will be greatly challenged this month, pushed toward false decisions. Those close are in betrayal mode, beware! Finish what you start. Keep to yourself, wait for better times. Someone from your past becomes important once again.

CHALLENGE (those born Dec 14 – Jan 20)

A Challenge warrior's motto is "Don't tread on me!" You make an excellent second-in-command; you call all aspects of a problem to commander's attention. You never take things at face value. Your strength is in moving quickly and decisively. No contemplation for you. Act at all times! Your instincts are those of a warrior. Believe in them. February is a boring month for you. It is a time of thought, something you usually loath. Use it wisely. Near end of month, an opportunity to make money. A family member will show the way.

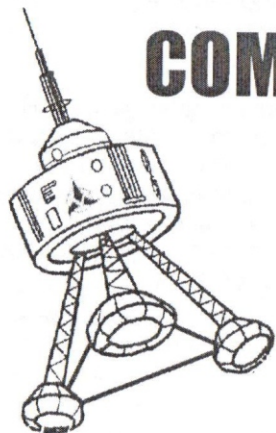

Klingon Nostradamus

INVASION (those born Jan 21 – Feb 28)

You are an intelligent warrior, a superb strategist. You have the ability to draw battle lines and to think as your enemy. In the Empire's history, Invasion warriors have been the most brilliant, winning impossible battles. You were born to lead warriors and command great armies. This month the wealth you care little for will flow into your hands. Use it to build armies. February brings a great challenge; you will, overcome it in a unique way. Your health is excellent. Those you conquer will lie at your feet and beg your caresses.

Thanks to Kohn and to give Full Credit where Credit is due, I got this from a Magazine called 'Strange New Worlds', and the Article was Written by Shirley Simpson.....specifically for February 1994. She goes on to say that if you send her your details and $20, she'll do a Personalized one for you, I will have that info at the next meeting if anyone is interested.

THE TREFOIL & IT'S MEANING

Just as the elements of a House or family crest have individual meaning, so it is with the symbol of the Klingon Empire.

The Trefoil, also called a Stella, which is the symbol of the Klingon Empire is made up of five elements.

First is the black (qlj) background. This symbolizes the endless void, where the naked stars reside. And we know that all things are seen by the naked stars. It is the beginning and the end of all things.

QU' (color name: SuD)*

Next is the Yellow disk. The yellow of the star that shines in the heavens, the shining light of Duty that leads us out of the darkness, duty to the Empire and duty to one's House and one's comrades. That shining light which keeps one going on when all else seems lost, because one must. Duty can even override honor on occasion.

MAX (color name: Doq)

Next is the Red spear of Courage. Red for the blood of those that passed before, those who gave their lives for their house, their comrades, and the Empire. Those who gave their last full measure of courage & devotion, and whose sacrifice it is not for us here to debate. It is rather that we should take their example and resolve ourselves to act with courage when our time comes, whether it be in battle or in the many challenges that the Struggle of Life presents.

TODUJ (color name: SuD)*

Next is the Green arm of Loyalty. Green to represent the worlds of the Empire, and those who live on those worlds that we defend. Loyalty to one's superiors, loyalty to one's House, loyalty to the Empire. That which makes all Klingons brothers, no matter what personal feelings we have about each other. We may hate or dislike another fellow Klingon, or even his whole House; but we will defend his right to be Klingon against the Other. Loyalty is tested frequently; every time a superior gives an order or makes a decision. Sometimes one must learn to be loyal to the Empire rather than oneself.

BAX (color name: Sud)*

Last is the Blue arm of Honor. True blue, representing the perfect honor to which we all aspire, and none can truly achieve. Honor is what a Klingon lives for, not money or possessions. Money has nothing to do with Honor. Power or authority a warrior may have, but these are merely symbols of the gratitude from the Empire. The warrior lives for honor, which is the recognition by others of his personal risk and sacrifice on behalf of the whole. One cannot rest on past honors.

And so it is: the Stars, Duty, Courage, Loyalty, & Honor. Those values which make Klingons what we are, and teach us how we should strive to be. A never ending struggle. This Trefoil represents the Struggle of Life, and it is the symbol of our Empire.

*SuD translates to "be green, blue, yellow". Klingons have no individual words for those specific colors.

NOTE: This article is fan speculation, not canon ~ Kahn

(Drink)

What Klingon doesn't like to drink
AND Sing? Here's the lyrics to the most popular Klingon drinking song.

And the blood was ankle deep...
And the River Skral ran crimson red
On the day above all days
When Kahless slew evil Molor dead!

In the Hol it is: (phonetic and as written)

'ej HumtaH 'ej DechtaH 'Iw
'ej Doq SodtaH ghoSpa' Sqral bIQtiQ
'e' pa' jaj law' mo' jaj puS
jaj qeyllS molar mlgh HoHchu'qu'

This is the literal translation:

and stickey-at-a-negative-angle(way)(taH, used as an inflective) and surrounded-negatively blood,
and red(blood) flooded-negative (?in)circled Skrawl River,
that there (a) day many cage day be few,

THE LAST PAGE

I have good news for you all. Unlike our conversation at the last meeting, this issue will NOT be the last issue of Maximum Overkill for a little while. I already landed a job doing graphics for a start up company in Ft. Worth. I am scheduled to start working there next week (remember this is really the middle of July). I found out that I will be using the same programs that I use to create this news letter. I'm sure if I work on it "off the clock" then the boss won't have a problem with me working on the next few issues of MO.

So that means that your submissions will still need to come in at a timely manner. I will try to have the next issue out by the end of September for all of you. I am still toying with the idea of adding an extra sheet of paper which would give us 4 more pages. The first thing is to make sure this layout transfers well to my work computer. Here's something else to consider, with a lot of chapters opting to move their newsletters to the interwebs, it might be easier and cheaper to create a free website to post info on. If anyone feels inclined to help with a website, please let me know. I'm going to be getting a crash course with this new job. Don't get me wrong, I love making these newsletters, I'm just thinking about costs and such.

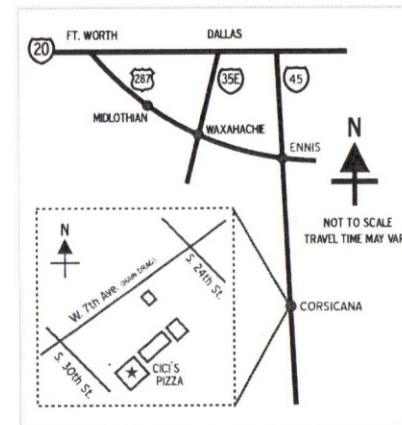

Well off to pack for Shreveport, going to go raid some buffets and get free drinks from the casinos with my XO. I'm sure something will happen when the two of us get drunk together. Until next month.

~ Kahn
